NEW ASSOCIATION FORMED TUESDAY

Lantwyn Lane Folks Choose Officers. Will Meet Each Month

LANTERN LIGHT HOMES

The property holders of Lantwyn lane organized an association on the evening of July 14. The president of this association is Mr. F. H. Kennedy, the vice president is Mr. Charles Hansel, the treasurer is George H. Forderbacker and George W. Cook is secretary.

After friendly greetings, this family of big brothers from Lantwyn lane, discussed many important things among which was street lighting. Over each front door hangs a lantern. This will be lit each night to light the way to hospitality, while great lovely lanterns shine down from the entrance upon all who pass that way.

Mr. H. Fielding Howe, the general superintendent for S. W. Sargent and Company, the builders, will oversee the arranging of shrubbery and care of streets that a uniformity of beauty may add to this picturesque little haven of rest.

Through Mr. Hansel's motion a sinking fund has been adopted. As Lantwyn lane is not cared for by the borough of Narberth, this fund will provide for street lighting, shrubbery, etc.

The next meeting of the association will be on the first Friday in August.

After a vote of appreciation to S. W. Sargent and Company for the careful thought and efficiency in the building of these homes, the Lantwyn Lane Association adjourned. Each big brother wending his way home to find peace 'neath the soft glow of lanterns.

If you do not believe there is a community pride in this new section of Narberth, list to the sweet words of enthusiasm wafted from the pen of one of the literati residing on Lantwyn lane:

"Surely Lantwyn lane is the result of an artist's dream—an inspiration wafted from the God of things as they should be. S. W. Sargent and Company, the builders of this colony, have done a real service to our country. Through ideal surroundings and comfort they are helping men, women and little children to live healthy, happy, free lives, which builds strong, clean, individual and national morale.

"Lantwyn lane is truly Narberth's Garden of Eden. A little colony perched upon the hill—homes cuddled 'neath summer skies, where the merry laughter of happy children blends with the birds' songs and perfume of flowers—'neath gorgeous sunsets and bright blue dawns.

"This little winding lane is like a bit of heaven. A speck of refreshing dew dropped into the heart of Narberth. It is a part and yet apart from the ordinary turmoil of public thoroughfares. A little private nook where man may find quiet and rest at the end of his busy day. Secluded 'neath the glow of lanterns, he and his loved ones may let the rest of the world go by."

BUS COMPANY

Will Run Buses on Five-Minute Schedule on October 1.

The Montgomery Bus Company commenced to operate its busses on Lancaster avenue four years ago at intervals of one hour. Now it is running its busses during a portion of the day at intervals of 10 minutes.

On September 15 the company will inaugurate a seven-and-one-half-minute service and commencing October 1, a five-minute service. If the public will support this service a lower fare may be fixed.

The company hopes to be able to give Gladwyne half hour service by next spring.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Scott, of 119 Woodside avenue, announce the marriage of their daughter, Irma Child, and Mr. Robert Frederick Toole, of Philadelphia, Friday, July 3, at Philadelphia.

New Buildings and Streets Occupied Councilmen Monday

A committee of citizens from Homewood avenue were on hand to protest what they felt was an unnecessary discrimination against their thoroughfare. The main point at issue was the legality of a fence erected across the road at the end of the present paved street.

As at present developed, Homewood avenue extends from Sabine avenue to within a short distance of Wynndale road. It is built up with houses constructed recently by William T. Harris, well remembered for dozens of homes of a familiar type constructed some years past.

A temporary paving is now on the street, and the property owners have petitioned to have the occupied part of the road included in the paving program now under way. In presenting the petition the question of the dead end came up.

Mr. John R. Hall, spokesman for the committee of citizens, declared that until recently there was an unpaved lane running from the present end of Homewood avenue to Wynndale road, but that "no trespassing" signs had been erected and a fence placed across the street. The blocking, he believed, was done by Mr. R. J. Nash, who is listed as owner of the property.

Mr. Hall was armed with a copy of a borough ordinance calling for the placing of sidewalks, curbs and gutters in the contested area. He stated that the Homewood avenue residents had been called the "riff-raff" of Narberth by other sections of Narberth and indignantly implied that Council felt likewise, and was discriminating against the residents of that section.

President Hall replied with an explanation of the ordinance, showing that it was an enabling act, with a blanket definition of the streets, so that paving would not be held up if in some future time petitions were presented for the paving of that part of the street. After reviewing Council's policy with regard to street paving, he delivered a biting lecture on the subject of citizens who enjoy accusing the governing body of discrimination.

The question of the annoying fence was not solved. Borough Solicitor Stites will be asked to give a legal opinion on the right of Problems connected with building and street paving occupied much of Council's time at the regular meeting Monday night.

The owner to block off the street, which is on the borough map. If he declares it illegal the fence will be removed.

Against Store Extension.

The Councilmen discussed at some length an application made to the building inspector for a permit to alter several stores. The plans were presented by Hyman Ricklin, owner of the first two stores on Haverford avenue east of Essex.

Mr. Ricklin has discovered that the legal building line (10 feet from the curb) lies some distance in front of the present store line. He is anxious to utilize this space and showed plans to extend the buildings a distance of from 6 to 8 feet out onto the present pavement.

It was stated at the meeting that John A. Caldwell, owner of the building now occupied by the Merion Title & Trust Company, had refused to join in with the plan to stretch the fronts of the stores. The operation, therefore, would cause the corner stores to project a considerable distance beyond others in that section, would take away a large part of the pavement, and would render that corner still more dangerous to traffic.

Formal action was held over until the next meeting, but it was decided to make an informal appeal to the owner to maintain the present line, which has stood for generations.

The editor was the target of many caustic remarks by Councilmen for permitting residents of Woodside avenue to break loose in print concerning the impatience over the slow progress of the work being done on that thoroughfare. The lack of speed, they declared, was due to an effort to economize on the job by using borough workmen.

Nevertheless, Street Commissioner Suplee was authorized to employ extra workmen to expedite the work—if he can get them. In the meantime the laying of the pipes is progressing and the Wynnewood avenue detour will be lifted today.

A delicate question of finances and diplomacy arose when the question came up on the deposition of the proceeds from the sale of the Road Improvement Bonds. Councilman Redifer presented a resolution to make the Narberth National Bank the depository for the $75,000.

Immediately Mr. Leitch entered a vigorous protest, backed up by Borough Secretary Charles V. Noel. It was declared to be both unfair and bad banking practice. It was pointed out that the Merion Title & Trust Company had been financing the borough for years, that at the present time it was holding loans amounting to $40,000, and had never required the usual bank balance to run with the loans.

Narberth 3 10x13 Day B. It was therefore felt an injustice to deposit money in one institution and borrow from the other. Councilman Hugh W. Brown, who is president of the new bank, gathered from the remarks a threat that the Trust Company would close out the loans if the deposits were made elsewhere. He stated that the new bank would take over the loans the following day and finance the borough.

Nevertheless, the arguments of Messrs. Leitch and Noel prevailed. Councilmen Brown and Redifer voted for the resolution, Henderson, Leitch and Wentz against, Griswold not voting.

A new resolution, substituting the name of the Merion Title and Trust Company received the favorable votes of Messrs. Leitch, Henderson, Wentz and Brown, the negative vote of Mr. Redifer and no vote from Mr. Griswold.

The much-discussed amendment to the building code, banishing wooden shingles, was again held over for consideration.

Plans for a community building on the Playground for the Girl Scouts, Library and American Legion were informally discussed. The project has been under discussion for many months under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. fund trustees, but definite action has not yet been taken.

How We Keep Cool.

A sidelight on Narberth's methods of cheating hot weather was seen a few days ago when Mr. White remarked that the output of ice cream at retail from White's Sweet Shop during several of the hot days exceeded 1000 quarts a day.

This, if placed end to end in bricks would reach—but figure it out for yourselves.

In any case, remembering that there are six other stores in Narberth selling ice cream, there is plenty of opportunity here for a statistician to make himself famous.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Loeb, of Philadelphia, have taken one of the Avon apartments for the summer. Mr. Loeb is secretary to Mayor Kendrick and is manager of the Metropolitan Opera House.

PLANETS "UNITE"

Those who paused to gaze at the sunset last Friday were rewarded by seeing three of the principal planets in such close proximity in the fading glory of the western sky that they appeared to the naked eye almost a single giant star.

The planets were Venus, Mars and Mercury. Mercury, the fastest of the trio, was only a quarter of one degree north of Venus and Venus only a little further north of Mars, or, to be precise, 22 minutes as the heavens are measured.

The spectacle continued until the planets set, which was about 90 minutes after the sun went down.

REGULAR PROGRAM FOR PLAYGROUND

Plan Athletic Contests for All Children Using Play Field

SPORT IS SUPERVISED

With a steadily increasing attendance and constant interest on the part of the children using the Community playground, plans are being made for regular athletic contests. The play activities have also been scheduled.

Miss Evers has arranged a tentative schedule for the girls. In the morning such games as long ball, nation ball and dodge ball will be played for the benefit of the smaller children, 7 to 12 years. In the afternoon the older girls, 12 to 16, will play chiefly soccer, volleyball and tennis. Tennis balls will be provided. This arrangement gives the older girls who are attending a chance to enjoy the grounds.

For the boy Mr. Oerteim has scheduled a track meet for boys 13 to 16 years old, to be held every Friday afternoon throughout the summer. This Friday the meet will consist of a pentathlon.

The events will be:
1—shot put, 8-lbs.
2—75-yard dash.
3—Running broad jump.
4—110-yard run.
5—Running hop, step and jump.
Every boy must compete in all five events, the boy getting the best record in all is the winner. Results will be announced later.

The following Friday Mr. Oerteim and Miss Evers plan a decathlon for the boys and a pentathlon for the girls. All boys and girls of from 13 to 16 years are expected to compete in these affairs while the older folks are invited to assist.

WORK ON WIDENING OF LINCOLN HIGHWAY BEGUN

Forty-Foot Roadway Will Be Completed by October 1.

The first actual steps to widen the Lincoln Highway, known through its course in Lower Merion as Lancaster avenue, were taken Wednesday. Gangs of men from the Ambler Davis Construction Co., which was awarded the job by the State, recently appeared and began work.

Original plans by the State Highway Department called for the widening of the highway to a width of 50 feet but these were abandoned after vigorous protests from Montgomery county officials who feared the county finances would be overtaxed by heavy costs that would be brought on by property condemnation.

The present widening is scheduled to be completed by October 1.

Frank Floyd, chairman of the Lower Merion Highway Committee, accompanied by J. S. G. Dunne, road engineer, went to Harrisburg on Monday and visited the State Highway Department, relative to the proposed widening of Lancaster avenue. They were informed the avenue would have a roadway 40 feet wide from curb to curb, from City Line to the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge at Devon.

This will not necessitate much of a change in Ardmore, where the roadway is now 42 feet wide. In Haverford, where roadway is now only 32 feet, many large shade trees will have to be removed in order to secure a 40-foot roadway. The contract for widening the avenue has been awarded to Ambler and Davis Company.

Yeggs Loot Home.

Early Thursday morning burglars entered the home of Frank H. Hewitt, 116 Essex avenue, leaving with $6, a watch, chain and silver match box. The burglary was not discovered until several hours later.

Entrance was made by cutting a window screen in the dining room. Silverware in the dining room was ignored by the intruders. They went directly to Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt's bedroom. There they looted a bureau and the clothing of Mr. Hewitt.

A number of inquiries have been made concerning the methods to be used this year to collect Narberth's share of County Taxes.

In past years the Merion Title and Trust Company has acted as Receiver of Taxes for a few weeks for the convenience of those who did not wish to write to Norristown for their bills.

This year all County Taxes are payable directly to Borough Tax Collector Raymond C. Jones, and are not to be sent to the County seat.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE

Wm. J. Kirkpatrick Throws Hat in Tax Collector Ring.

The third candidate for borough tax collector appeared this week in the shape of Inspector of Elections Wm. J. Kirkpatrick. Mr. Kirkpatrick announces himself as the Republican "who has never failed to exercise his right of franchise."

The other two candidates are Borough Treasurer Edwin P. Dold and Mrs. Abbie W. Nickerson, real estate assessor. Both these candidates advertised their plans in Our Town during the spring.

Several other names have been mentioned informally, but these three are the only candidates so far to make their ambitions public.

C. M. T. C. NEWS

Narberth Boys Write of Doings at Camp Meade.

Headquarters company, the one in which all the boys from the Main Line are stationed, rated 100 per cent. inspection this week. This is a very unusual occurrence and we are proud of our boys for showing the Main Line spirit. This rating places Headquarters company ahead of all the other companies in cleanliness and neatness. Keep it up, boys!

Ardmore Boy Wins Honors.

Albert Kohlas, of Ardmore, was rated as the best soldier during the past week. This is another example of the stuff our boys are made of. Albert is also the winner in the swimming and track contests.

Many delightful evenings are spent in one of our boy's tents. Ray Rudrauff plays the cornet and mandolin; Fred Egmore, the saxophone; Munger, of Reading, the violin. Charles Henry, Bob Dothard and Ed Davis keep up the vocal end much to the company's disgust.

Some of our boys were unexpectedly visited by their parents over the week-end. Mr. W. P. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Speck, Mrs. F. A. Egmore, Mr. C. R. Rudrauff, Mr. Fred Maurer, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Clegg and daughter. The folks were royally treated by everyone, including high officers. Mr. and Mrs. Speck and Mrs. F. A. Egmore were entertained by Colonel Mac Casky, in charge of C. M. T. C. boys. All the boys are enjoying themselves immensely.

WORKERS GET VACATION

Autocar Company Continues Annual Custom; Business Outlook Good.

The six months' business ending June 30, 1925, is the largest in volume ever done in a corresponding period during the entire 27 years since the company was established.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Lutheran Church will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Krout, 520 Essex avenue, next Tuesday at 2 P. M.

Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Shindle, of Elmwood avenue, have returned from a six weeks' visit with their son in Reading, Pa.

Rev. K. Richter and Mr. Walter C. Richter, of Buffalo, N. Y., are guests at the home of Mr. A. H. Darboraw.

In all contests the matches will be the best two out of three advantage sets, except the finals, which will be the best three out of five advantage sets.

Play may be indulged in on Sunday, July 26, but not unless it is mutually agreed between both contestants drawn to play each other.

Those participating in the tournament will be the guests of the Narberth Tennis Association at supper on Monday, July 27.

Play in singles will start at 2 P. M., Saturday, July 25, and resumed on Sunday, July 26. No one will be obliged to play, however, until Monday, July 27. Play in doubles will start on Tuesday, July 28.

A delegation from the Idle Hour Club visited with us last Sunday and departed with everything but Walter Cowins' sterling character.

The "Lob," a weekly magazine devoted to the interests of the Narberth Tennis Association, made its first appearance on Saturday. More issues like the first and Cyrus Curtis and William Randolph Hearst will have to look to their laurels.

Boy Scout News.

The boys went to camp last Saturday and are returning Saturday. A report of their trip and experience will be furnished next week.

The treasurer desire to report recent contributions from H. B. Wall, P. R. Loos, F. E. Zindel and Mrs. J. Thomas.

GRIGSON, COACH
AT HIGH, RESIGNSPartial List of New Teachers
Announced by Downs
at Meeting.

WILL SWITCH PUPILS

The resignation of two teachers of the Lower Merion School system staff, one of them Herbert Grigson, athletic director of the high school, and the appointment of a number of new instructors for the coming year, were announced by Superintendent S. E. Downs at the July meeting of the Board of Education held at the high school building in Ardmore last week.

During his report Mr. Downs informed the board that the new Merion School on Bowman avenue, Merion, would be ready for occupation on October 1.

Its completion, he said, would necessitate a number of changes which would effect Cynwyd, Ardmore and Merion pupils. Because of indications of a heavy enrollment in the Ardmore School, Mr. Downs recommended that children above the first two grades from Owen road east to be sent to the Cynwyd School to take the place of Merion children who would move into the new building.

At the meeting of the board the Lower Merion football schedule for 1925 was announced, the summer school system was outlined and the annual election of secretary and treasurer was held. William J. Byrnes, Jr., was re-elected secretary and Mr. Burlingame was made treasurer. Mr. Burlingame succeeds Mr. Thomas Corson Yocum, of Cynwyd. Mrs. Sellers was also nominated but declined to run.

In his communication to the board superintendent Downs said: "Since the last report Miriam E. Martin, a graduate of Miss Illman's School, with four years of teaching experience in Galion, and Miss Kathryn Clemmer, a graduate of a normal school in Minneapolis, Minn., with four years of teaching experience in Wisconsin and in Wilmington, Del., have been engaged. Miss Emily Brenner and Mr. Herbert Grigson have tendered their resignations. Miss Brenner expects to be married and Mr. Grigson wishes to accept a position in Philadelphia.

"Owing to the fact that there are still a number of vacancies and to the uncertainty of the total enrollment by schools prior to the completion of the census, we have not yet compiled in full the assignments of teachers for next year, but copies of these with lists of the additional new teachers will be sent to the board during the summer. Following is the list of the new teachers selected to date:

"Bruce C. Bosch (Music, W. S.), Paul Keever (Science, H. S.), Warren E. Cocalin (Science, H. S.), Theresa M. Knapp (Latin, Jr. H. S.), Samuel S. Culick (History, Jr. H. S.), Eva M. Minich (Dom. Sc., H. S.), Mary M. Rohrer (Prin., Merion). Florence McLaughlin, Elementary; Mabel Rohrer, Elementary; Grace R. Jones, Elementary; Julia F. Moore, Elementary; Frieda Graber, Elementary; Vera Palmer, Elementary; Ruth Tempest, Elementary; Dora Wilson, Elementary; Margaret Carothers, Elementary; Mary Brot-Elementary; Helen Hoffman, Elementary; Frances Friendly, Elementary; Julia Ments, Elementary; Virginia Font, Elementary; Miriam Martin, Elementary; Kathryn Clemmer, Elementary.

"Members of the board will no doubt be interested in the advance notification of the football schedule of our senior high school team for the fall of 1925:

September, 26, Berwyn, home.
October 3, Northeast, home.
October 10, Cheltenham, home.
October 17, Wilmington, home.
October 24, West Chester, home.
October 31, Abington, away.
November 7, Lansdowne, away.
November 14, Pottstown, away.
November 21, Radnor, home.
"Frank M. Forstburg, coach; E. J. Donohue, manager; S. Eugene Kuen, Jr., captain.

PERENNIALS

"All gardening means looking forward, imagining what is not, and at the end of January the first real sign of Autumn planting shows itself,"—Maria T. Earl.

Maria was probably a few weeks early for Eastern Pennsylvania but she said a lot when she said that the real gardener is one who has imagination; we might add that a bit of patience is one of the prime requisites.

The inspiration for this week's column was obtained from a plant of long spurred columbine, or aquilegia, that has been blooming since late May. Of course it is not full of bloom at this time but a few flowers remain—and a number of seed pods.

The seed pods suggest something. When is the best time to sow seeds of hardy plants? When they are ripe and fresh.

The aquilegia seeds are ripe and fresh and will be sown at once. This will give them a good start and nice husky little plants will be ready to set out in late September. They may bloom in the spring but we are sure to have flowers the following spring. Aquilegia and Dianthus Barbat, or Sweet William, are both better handled as biennials, raising new plants from seed every year for bloom two years later. The old plants usually deteriorate because they are allowed to go to seed.

As most of the perennial bloom in May and June the seed are ripe and ready to sow during July and August so that if we want plants to bloom next year, and for many years, we will get the seeds started as promptly as possible.

First we will clean out the spent hot bed or a cold frame and see that the soil is just right to be open and friable, and fine, and has sufficient moisture-holding material in its make-up. The perfect mixture would be one quarter good garden loam, one quarter fine sharp sand and one-half old leaf soil, trade mark humus or peat moss. This must be all thoroughly mixed and made fine, screening is better.

Leaf soil directly from the woods is apt to bring weed seeds, insects or fungus diseases so that the humus is safer.

While the frame may be in a sunny place, it is not necessary, or even good to try to germinate seeds in full sun. The seed bed must be kept shaded and moist. Direct sun dries it out too quickly, so that we will employ the lath cover and, until the seeds germinate we will keep a piece of burlap over the laths.

When the seeds break through leave off the burlap but leave on the lath cover to keep out half the sun and do not let the little seedlings dry out for one minute.

This is only part of the work because the plants will be too crowded in the seed bed and will have to be moved out later and spaced a few inches apart so that they can grow on and get big enough to plant into their permanent places in late September. A spare frame is the best place in which to grow them on, easier to weed, easier to water and better protected from animals and other garden pests.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. McCarthy, of Germantown, have purchased a new home on Antwyn road, Merion. The sale was made by the office of Robert J. Nash.

Master Elliott How Morse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield Morse, Narberth and Montgomery avenues, is recuperating from a recent operation.

Mr. William Ritchie, vice president of Philadelphia Lawn Mower Company, has purchased a home on Hampden avenue. The sale was made by the office of R. J. Nash.

FOR TOURISTS

Tourists' contemplating long visits in neighboring States are often uncertain as to the exact requirements as to registration or the period of grace allowed. The Automobile Club of Philadelphia has just compiled a list from information recently obtained showing the time allowed in the States to which Pennsylvania motorists are likely to travel this summer.

Pennsylvania being a State which grants motorists from visiting States "reciprocal" privileges, motorists from this State are unlimited in many States which are also "reciprocal."

Several States, however, notably New Jersey, limit visitors to 15 days in any one year, so that motorists expecting to spend more than two weeks in that State are required to register their cars in that State.

California—6 months.
Colorado—90 days.
Connecticut—15 days.
Dist. of Columbia—Reciprocal.
Delaware—Reciprocal.
Illinois—6 months.
Indiana—60 days.
Iowa—3 months.
Maine—Reciprocal.
Maryland—Reciprocal.
Massachusetts—Reciprocal.
Michigan—Reciprocal.
Minnesota—2 months.
Mississippi—30 days.
Missouri—Reciprocal.
New Hampshire—20 days.
New Jersey—15 days.
New York—Reciprocal.
Ohio—Reciprocal.
Rhode Island—Reciprocal.
Vermont—Reciprocal.
Virginia—Reciprocal.
West Virginia—3 months.

Pastor—"Don't you think I touched them rather deeply this morning?"
Deacon—"I don't know, sir. I haven't counted up yet."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nash have purchased a home on Lantwyn lane. They will take possession August 1.

Mr. Robert J. Nash and family are spending a few weeks at Ocean City, N. J.

We have an idea that the first man who said, "eat, drink and be merry" never dined on Broadway.

Bobby Paist was unhittable Saturday and Berwyn, the first half champions, started the second half with a victory over Bala-Cynwyd, 5 to 0. Paist held the visitors to three scattered hits, and was backed by perfect fielding. It was Paist's eleventh win of the season. Babb was also in good form, striking out 10 of the champions. A home-run by Paist with one man on was a feature as was the fielding of Higgins and Kelly.

Ashland started off in auspicious fashion by winning the game from Paoli 10 to 3. Ashland hit McGill hard throughout and were led in the attack by Rose. Features were the fielding of McFarland and McAdoo, and Barney McCue's catching.

Library Notes.

Vacations of Library Staff Cover Many Lands.

The summer finds the Library Staff scattered enjoying vacations in various places. Mr. and Mrs. Wood, who sailed the first of June, have joined Mr. and Muschamp in England and all are now motoring through England and Wales, later expecting to visit France and Holland. Miss Marion Trotter and Mr. Thos. Trotter are camping on a Wyoming ranch. Mrs. Kaehler is summing at Cotuit, on Cape Cod.

Miss Emma Mueller will spend a month in Virginia. On the Jersey coast we find Mrs. Aungst and her daughters at Strathmere, Mrs. Ruch at Stone Harbor, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Goodall in Ocean City, Mrs. Dunlap at Green Point and Mrs. Ramey at Asbury Park.

Mrs. Bates has returned from Saratoga Springs and Cleveland. Miss Marjorie Cowen from Newark and Mrs. H. W. Derby from a motor trip to Connecticut. Miss Ida Buckman is home from a six-months' tour around the world.

Although the staff has been reduced, the work has gone regularly on due to the kindness of volunteers and the stay-at-homes who were willing to do double duty and it is hoped the readers have not been inconvenienced in any way by so many of the efficient workers being absent.

YOUR PETS AND MINE

We take pleasure in presenting to our readers, beginning with this issue, a series of articles on the care of small pets, specially prepared for us by Dr. Raymond M. Staley, of Narberth, a recognized expert in small animal veterinary work.

Dr. Staley graduated from the University of Pennsylvania Veterinary School in 1906, and went into general practice in New York City. At the outbreak of the war he volunteered, when, with the rank of Major, he assisted in the organization of the Veterinary Corps, U. S. Army. He has recently been commissioned Lt. Colonel in the Reserve Corps.

He recently resigned as director of the Veterinary Department of the H. K. Mulford Company to devote his time to small animal practice on the Main Line. He is president of the Penn Veterinary Alumni in addition to holding posts in many other organizations.

Queries will be answered if sent in care of the paper.

INTESTINAL PARASITES (WORMS)

A Southern gentleman's slumbers were disturbed one night by the mournful howls of an old hound dog which belonged to the house-servant, Uncle Mose. Next morning the gentleman took Mose to task for having a dog that didn't know any better than to disturb white folks' rest by baying at the moon. Wishing to straighten matters out for his good friend, Mose replied, "Shuck, Masser Jim, dat ol' dog has too much sense to waste time abarkin' at de moon but he am a trifle lazy, sure 'nuf. You see he done got de hook worm and las' night he sat down on a chestnut burr and was too cussed lazy to get off."

Pretty good joke, isn't it? The idea of being too lazy to get off a chestnut burr—and imagine a dog having hook worm!

Well, this matter of dogs having hook worm, and many other kinds of worms, isn't any joke at all. Ninety per cent. of all dogs in the South have hook worms and many dogs in the Northern States have also been found to be infested. Practically all young dogs harbor one or more kinds of worms and many of the ills of puppies are traceable to their presence.

Few worms develop in any great numbers, or remain for any great length of time, in the stomach of the dog because of its high acidity. On the other hand, the intestinal tract of the dog offers an unusually favorable location for the development of worms. The length of the intestines, the presence of an abundance of fluid, the very slow intestinal motion and the character of the food eaten by dogs, particularly puppies, are all especially favorable to the dog's worst enemy.

There are four distinct species of worms which infest dogs. The one most frequently encountered is commonly called the round worm. The tape worm is quite frequently the cause of trouble as is also the hook worm, as previously indicated.

It has come to be the general practice among dog fanciers to "worm" puppies when they are about five weeks old and again when they are about three months old. However, the promiscuous "worming" of dogs is not to be encouraged. Proper treatment varies according to the kind of worm to be expelled. Before any treatment is administered a definite knowledge of the variety of the worms, which are causing the trouble, should be had. The treatment should be carefully planned and carried out exactly as directed.

An infestation of worms, sufficiently serious to be given attention, will cause the animal to become sluggish; it may vomit and lose flesh. The abdomen may appear enlarged. Diarrhoea is frequently a symptom and may be alternated with constipation. If the parasites are present in great numbers, or for a long time, they may set up sufficient irritation to cause convulsions. The appetite is fickle and the coat becomes dry and harsh.

Ode to the Evolutionary War.

Way down in sleepy Tennessee
The boys are making history
There seems to be a mystery,
For which there's no solution.

Now, argument is no disgrace,
It's characteristic of the race;
The opposite parties in this case
Are science and religion.

The former says, "We speak the truth,
The human race back in its youth,
Evolved from monks and apes uncouth!"
We call this evolution.

"Infidels! Throwers of hot air!"
The latter shout, and tear their hair,
"Darwinian liars!" They declare
"You'll start a revolution!"

And so, while science boosts the monk
Religion says it is all the bunk;
Meanwhile it takes a lot of spunk
To live through this confusion.

And while I'm neutral, so to state,
This monkey business and debate
Is fourteen million years too late
To come to a conclusion.

The above is the joint words of Raymond Austin Maxwell and Paul Mark Maston, two of Narberth's rising poets.
